

PRIVACY NOTICE

At New World, we believe in being clear and open about how we collect and use data related to you. We attach particular importance to respecting the privacy of personal data processed within the framework of our business operations.

Your data and our use

We do not own your data – you do - so we use as little of your data as possible for exactly the purposes, we need to.

We process the personal data we request from you to make the New World platform work.

Moreover, we track you when you use our website and app, if you give us your consent. We do this to get a good picture of how New World is used in order to give you the best possible user experience.

We do not use, sell or share your data with third parties for profit.

You should be aware though, that New World interact in different ways with third parties such as Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn, Reddit, Telegram, Youtube and Medium on our website and in our app.

We have no control over the use of your data by these third parties. We are nevertheless working continually in order to comply with our responsibility as a joint controller.

Your use

You may of course not use New World in a way that damages New World. If you do misuse New World, we can deny our services to you at any time.

Our changes

New World is free and is developed continuously.

We can change the New World platform as we wish. Nonetheless, we will not process your personal data in a new way without asking for your consent.

If we change the New World platform, we will make sure your account is still open and available to you at all times.

Security of processing

To ensure the ongoing confidentiality, integrity, availability and resilience of the New World platform, we - for example - pseudonymise and encrypt personal data.

We have also made sure we have the ability to restore the availability and access to personal data in a timely manner in the event of a physical or technical incident.

To make sure our security of processing does not fail, we continually test, assess and evaluate the effectiveness of our measures.

Finally, we have made sure that our third-party IT-service providers have also implemented appropriate security measures.

Your privacy – our mission

Consent:

You have the right to withdraw consent at any time for example by deleting your account or unsubscribing from our newsletter. The withdrawal of consent does not affect the processing of data that took place before the withdrawal. In order to withdraw your consent, you can send the relevant information to the our Cs email .

Purpose and legal basis:

As a starting point the legal basis for our processing of your data is your consent.

Depending on the circumstances we might also use other grounds for processing your personal data such as the performance of a contract to which you are party or compliance with a legal obligation to which New World is subject.

The recipients or categories of recipients:

We share your data with public authorities, if we are obliged to do so by law.

Our data processors and sub-processors also handle your data on our behalf based on a data processing agreement.

Transfer personal data to a third country outside the EU/EEA:

We transfer data to countries outside the EU based on a decision of adequate level of data protection.

The European Commission has so far recognised Andorra, Argentina, Canada (commercial organisations), Faroe Islands, Guernsey, Israel, Isle of Man, Jersey, New Zealand, Switzerland, Uruguay and the United States of America (limited to the Privacy Shield framework) as providing adequate protection.

It is expected that the European Commission will soon decide that Japan is also providing an adequate level of data protection.

In some circumstances we may transfer data outside the EU using model contracts, that the European Commission have decided offer sufficient safeguards on data protection for the data to be transferred internationally.

The period for which the personal data will be stored:

When you erase your account or unsubscribe to our newsletter, we erase your personal data, unless we have another legal ground for retaining your personal data.

Your rights:

You have the right to request access to or rectification of your personal data; for instance, you can ask us to send you a copy of your personal data and you can decide that we must rectify some or all of the personal data.

In addition, you have the right to erasure of your personal data – the so called ‘right to be forgotten’.

You have a right to data portability: The right to data portability allows you to obtain and reuse your personal data for your own purposes across different services.

It allows you to move, copy or transfer personal data easily from one IT environment to another in a safe and secure way, without affecting its usability.

Please be aware that the right only applies to information you have provided to New World.

You have the right to object to the processing of your personal data in certain circumstances. You for instance have an absolute right to stop your data being used for direct marketing.

New World must answer a request or an objection without undue delay and in any event within one month of receipt of the request. While New World processes a request for erasure or rectification or an objection you have the right to restrict our processing of your personal data. When processing is restricted, New World can store your personal data, but we cannot use it. We may lift the restriction in some cases. If we do, we will notify you.

Be aware that not all of these rights apply fully to all your personal data in all circumstances. Additionally, some of these rights you enforce by using relevant functions in New World or by means designated by New World.
